COWBOY GOOD ADVICE

Just because trouble comes knocking doesn't mean you have to offer it a chair.

Letting the cat out of the bag is much easier than putting it back in.

If you find yourself in a hole, the first thing to do is stop digging.

It's better to stay quiet and be thought a fool than to speak and remove all doubt.

If something seems like it's not worth the effort, it probably isn't.

Things a cowboy should not do:

Don't squat wearing spurs.

Don't let your yearnings outrun your earnings.

Don't dig water near the outhouse.

Never approach a bull from the front, a horse from the rear, or a fool from any side.

Never miss a good chance to keep your mouth shut.

Never ask how stupid someone is—they'll show you soon enough.

Don't go in if you don't know how to get out.

Don't mess with something that isn't bothering you.

Never drive black cattle in the dark.
